DEGREE COURSES YOU DIDN'T KNOW EXISTED

Is this you?

You're keen to go on to higher education. But none of the traditional subjects appeal. Don't worry, these days you can get a degree in most things. You like baking? You can major in baking technology management. More inclined towards fashion? How about writing a dissertation on 5 handbag and accessories design? If you have a passion for something, you can usually find a course that specialises in your area. Here are three courses you never knew existed.

1 THE SCIENCE OF SUPERHEROES 10 University of California, USA

This course is a new, creative way to learn physics. Through studying heroes and villains, you'll learn the answers to important real-life questions such as what the chemical composition 15 of Captain America's armour is. In other words, you'll attend lectures on the real principles of Physics, but they'll be given in a more engaging and accessible way.

- 6 1) 1.2 Listen again and write the correct option in your notebook. Use a dictionary if necessary.
  - 1 The daughter is gifted / weak.
  - 2 The daughter is lazy / a swot compared to her father.
  - 3 The father couldn't settle down / make friends in class.
  - 4 The father was disruptive / self-disciplined.
  - 5 The father nearly got expelled / got a scholarship.
  - 6 The father had lenient / strict teachers.
  - 7 The father's teachers gave up on / supported him.
  - 8 The father was dyslexic / a bully.
  - 9 The father did well / fell behind at school.
  - 10 The father scraped through / failed his exams.
- 7 SPEAKING What do you know about your parents' education? Discuss your ideas with a partner.

FOCUS ON WORDS | Phrasal verbs

8 (1) 1.3 In your notebook, complete the definitions with the base form of the phrasal verbs in red in the text and in Exercise 6. Then listen, check and repeat.

1 2	make less progress than others = fall behind quit doing sth; stop hoping sb will change =
3	start working in a type of job = ?
4	do sth after finishing another thing = ?
5	study sth as your main subject = ?
6	only just succeed in doing sth = ?
7	become calm or confident = ?

9 SPEAKING In your notebook, complete the questions with the correct prepositions. Ask and answer the questions in pairs.

1	How often do you only just scrape exams?
2	Have you ever given anything that was important to you?
3	Have you ever fallen at school because of illness or some other issue?
4	If you go university, what subjects do you think you will major ? ?
5	In what subject or lesson do you find it most difficult to settle and concentrate?
6	What profession would you like to go ? ? ?

2 SURF SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY 20 University of Plymouth, UK

The university website warns that 'You will not be taught how to surf, and it is important to realise that this is an academic course.' That means you don't graduate because you can catch a good wave – you have to sit exams here! Core modules include ecology and scientific aspects of health, fitness and sports nutrition.

3 THE BEATLES, POPULAR MUSIC AND SOCIETY Liverpool Hope University, UK

If you enrol on this course, you'll deepen your knowledge of the band's music as well as how it was influenced by the city of Liverpool. The Beatles not only changed the world of music, but they also had a big impact on youth culture and fashion. This course will be of interest to those working in the field of cultural studies and if you want to go into the music industry.

FOCUS ON WORDS | Describing teachers and students

Present and past habits

I can talk about present and past habits.

- 1 Read about Gillian Lynne's education. What do you think Gillian did when her mum and the psychologist left the room?
- 2 (1) 1.6 SPEAKING Listen to two friends talking about Gillian's story and check your ideas in Exercise 1. Discuss what this story teaches us about educating children.
- 3 Read the GRAMMAR FOCUS. Which verb forms in blue in the text in Exercise 1 complete the examples correctly?

GRAMMAR FOCUS

Present and past habits

- You can use the Present Simple and the Past Simple to talk about habits. You also use the Past Simple to talk about single past actions.
- You can use used to to talk about regular past actions that don't happen anymore or past states that are no longer true.

She <sup>1</sup>used to fail all her exams.

Life <sup>2</sup> ? so good.

 You can use will (present) or would (past) to talk about characteristics or predictable actions. You don't use them to talk about states.

She <sup>3</sup> and move around instead of listening to the teacher.

Her teachers <sup>4</sup> ? about her disruptive behaviour.

Note: You don't usually ask questions with this use of will and would.

 You can use the Present Continuous or Past Continuous with always to stress the repetitiveness of an action or to show your annoyance.

She <sup>5</sup> people.

She 6 and handing in her homework late.

- 4 In your notebook, complete the sentences with the correct form of the verbs in brackets. Use would where possible. If would is not possible, use used to. If used to is not possible, use the Past Simple.
  - 1 This school used to be (be) smaller than it is now.
  - 2 Mum ? (take) me to school every day.
  - 3 I ? (not like) going to school.
  - 4 I (hate) having school lunches.
  - 5 l (go) swimming every week.
  - 6 I (go) on a school trip to England.
- 5 SPEAKING Ask and answer questions based on the sentences in Exercise 4. Use used to or the Past Simple.
  - 1 Did this school use to be smaller than it is now?

The right education

Ken Robinson is an educationalist. In his book, The Element, he interviews people who have made a successful living doing what they love. This is Gillian Lynne's story.

Gillian had a successful career in the theatre, but life didn't use to be so good. When she was eight, her schoolwork was a disaster, her handwriting was awful, and she used to fail all her exams. Her teachers would complain about her disruptive behaviour: she was always fidgeting and handing in her homework late. They told her mother that she had a learning disorder. So Gillian's mother took her to see a psychologist and listed some of the problems: she never pays attention in class – she'll get up and move around instead of listening to the teacher; she's always disturbing people and her homework's always late. Finally, the doctor turned to Gillian and said, 'Gillian, I need to speak to your mother privately now. Don't worry. We won't be long.' As they left the room, he

- 2 (1) 1.8 Read about two methods of memorising a shopping list. Which headings A–E match paragraphs 1–2 correctly? There are three extra headings. Then listen and check.
  - A Use your imagination
  - B Make up a dramatic narrative
  - C Learn how to give a speech
  - D Imagine what each item tastes like
  - E Visualise the items in a familiar place

MEMORY TIPS

Greek philosopher Socrates famously said 'Learning is remembering'. So, how can we improve our memory? The key is to use your imagination. Here are two ways of remembering a shopping list of eight items.

- 1 Pirst, imagine a huge loaf of bread, and suddenly, coffee squirts out of the top and makes a fountain of dark brown liquid. After a few seconds, the dark brown changes to white yoghurt. The
- yoghurt forms a river and it goes under a bridge the bridge is a steak. Some black and green olives are crossing the bridge and some big brown eggs are chasing them. The olives hide behind a big carton of orange juice. You lift an olive to your
- mouth to eat and it turns into an onion which tastes horrible. That's it. You've reached the end.
- Think of your home and get a mental image of the rooms in your house. Then, put the items on the list, one by one, in specific places in the rooms. For - instance, you imagine the bread on the doormat as you come in the door. Then you go into the living room and the coffee is in front of the television, the yoghurt is on the sofa and the steak is stuck to the mirror on a wall. And so on, it's all about making personal associations ... you get the idea. This method isn't just useful for memorising shopping lists. Some famous people have used it to give a

Tim Berners-Lee is proof that you don't have to be a savant to do amazing things. Berners-Lee, a

THE HUMAN BRAIN QUIZ

fact or fiction?

- A larger brain is smarter than a smaller brain.
- 🔼 On average a person has 70,000 thoughts each day.
- The brain's storage capacity is practically unlimited.
- The brain produces enough electricity to power a small light bulb.
- Most people only use 10 percent of their brain.

HIDDEN TALENTS

Despite some recent advances, there is still a great deal about the human brain that remains a mystery. We know it is made up of about 100 billion nerve cells, called neurons, connected like wires in a giant telephone exchange. We

- know messages pass down them like electrical signals and jump from one neuron to the next when chemicals known as neurotransmitters are released. 1 But what we don't fully understand are things like consciousness, intelligence and creativity.
- Much of our knowledge comes from studying brain functions when things go wrong. There are some fascinating cases of where a bang on the head has brought about changes in personality or caused a person to become talented in a way they weren't at all before the injury.
- A famous case was Jason Padgett, a furniture salesman from Washington, who was mugged by two men after leaving a karaoke bar. He survived the attack, but was left unconscious.
   Padgett began to see patterns in everything he looked at, and to draw complex geometric figures. He seemed to understand the mathematical nature of the universe despite the fact that he had little formal academic training. The man who had barely scraped through his school exams ended up Padgett's is a case of acquired savant syndrome, a condition in which brain damage of some kind unlocks extreme mental abilities. All cases of acquired savant syndrome involve a head injury and the special abilities are typically in the fields of maths, languages, music or art. Having acquired the new skill, it is extremely rare for a savant to lose it. The change is permanent.

pursuing a career in mathematics as a number theorist.

Another example of this syndrome is 24-year-old Ben McMahon from Australia, who fell into a coma after a car crash. A week later he woke up speaking Mandarin Chinese. He had studied Chinese at school, but had never been fluent until the accident. McMahon works now as a Chinese-speaking tour guide in Australia.

Orlando Serrell suffered a head injury when he was knocked out in a baseball game at the age of ten. When he regained consciousness, he felt OK and finished the game. <sup>3</sup>

40 He has never made a mistake. For instance, ask him about 11 February 1983 and he says 'Friday. It was raining that day. I had a pizza – pepperoni sausage.'

Some knocks on the head are more dramatic than others.

Tony Cicoria, an orthopaedic surgeon, was struck by lightning

- 45 as he was leaving a public payphone. Luckily there was a nurse nearby and she saved his life. Several weeks after the accident, Cicoria developed a strong desire to listen to classical piano music and play the piano even though he'd never wanted to play a musical instrument before. He is now a successful pianist and composer.
  - Although cases of female savants are not as common as those of males, there are some examples. Heather Thompson, a successful businesswoman from Washington, was loading her supermarket shopping into her car when the boot door crashed
- down onto her head. Although she never lost consciousness, the accident changed her life. Soon afterwards she felt an urge to paint, and overnight she became a talented abstract artist. She explained that her hands simply knew how to use colour and white spaces it felt natural to her to paint.
- There is no single theory to explain each case, but many researchers believe that acquired savant syndrome happens when the right side of the brain compensates for an injury to the left side. The condition is rare fewer than one hundred cases have been identified. <sup>4</sup> The challenge
- is how to access that hidden knowledge and skill without experiencing a bang on the head.

Verb patterns

I can use a wide range of different verb patterns.

- 1 (1) 1.17 Listen to Part 1 of a podcast about being left-handed. What jobs seem to be more suited to 'lefties'?
- 2 (1) 1.17 Listen to the podcast again. Are statements 1–4 true or false?
  - 1 No one knows what makes someone use their right or left hand.
  - 2 Left-handers tend to choose creative professions.
  - 3 Dominance of the left hemisphere enables left-handers to be better at 3D perception.
  - 4 Rafa Nadal keeps winning because he is naturally lefthanded.
- 3 Read GRAMMAR FOCUS I. Which verb forms in blue in Exercise 2 match these verb patterns?

5 (1) 1.18 In your notebook, complete Part 2 of the podcast with the correct form of the verbs in brackets. Then listen and check. How many left-handed people do you know?

6 Read GRAMMAR FOCUS II. Find examples of verb patterns with remember, stop, hear and see in Exercise 5. Explain the changes in meaning.

GRAMMAR FOCUS II

Verb patterns - change in meaning

 You can use remember, forget, stop and try with the -ing form or a to + infinitive, but with a change in meaning.

I remember doing my homework. Sadly, I didn't remember to hand it in.

Jim will never forget going on that school trip. He forgot to take any money.

'I've stopped eating chocolate.' 'Really? Why did you stop to buy some on the way home?' I tried to convince Jane, but she doesn't want my advice. Why don't you try talking to her?

You use feel, hear, see, watch + object + -ing to describe ongoing actions or the same verbs
+ object + infinitive without to to describe finished actions.

I watched Dan playing football and saw him score the winning goal.

- 7 In your notebook, complete the sentences with the correct form of the verbs in brackets. Discuss whether any sentences are true for you.
  - 1 I often forget to bring (bring) my pens to school.
  - 2 I'll never forget ? (meet) my best friend.
  - 3 I don't remember (learn) how to swim.
  - 4 I always remember ( ) (switch) my phone off in lessons.
  - 5 I stopped (take) piano lessons a while ago.
  - 6 I usually stop (buy) sweets on my way.
  - 7 If my laptop freezes, I try ? (turn) it off and on again.
  - 8 I tried ? (work), but I was tired.
  - 9 I've never seen my father ? (lose) his temper.
  - 10 I often see my neighbour ? (drive) to work.

Grammar page 133

As a child I don't remember deciding that I was left-handed. But when my primary school teacher saw me using my left hand for writing and drawing she <sup>3</sup> ? (encourage/me/swap) hands. She didn't <sup>4</sup> ? (manage/change) my natural inclination, and I didn't stop writing with my left hand. Why <sup>5</sup> ? (waste time/try) to change someone's natural handedness? Just <sup>6</sup> ? (let/them/use) the hand they feel comfortable with – you can't ? (expect/people/do) what isn't natural to them!

I once heard someone say that left-handed people were strange. But when you stop to think about famous historical figures who were left-handed, you can't <sup>8</sup> (avoid/conclude) that they were brilliant! I'm sure Leonardo da Vinci, Mahatma Gandhi, Albert Einstein, Winston Churchill and Marie Curie would agree!

Text 2

You are invited to attend a reception in honour of the exchange group from Switzerland.

The reception will be held in the school assembly hall from 5 p.m. to 6.30 p.m.

All English teaching staff will be present and in addition the Head of English will give a welcome speech.

This will be followed by light refreshments. A map and directions have been posted on the website.

Please enter through the front entrance where student representatives will greet you.

Visitors will be given a guided tour of the school.

There are twelve more underlined examples of formal and informal equivalents in Texts 1 and 2. Write them down in a new formal/informal table in your notebook.

Dear Ms Laver,

I am writing in response to your online advertisement seeking staff for Chatfield Zoo's summer activities programme. I wish to apply for the position of children's activity coordinator.

I am an eighteen-year-old childcare student and I am passionate about working with children. I intend to pursue a career as a kindergarten teacher when I finish my education. With this in mind, I hope to gain as much relevant experience as possible while I am still a student. I would welcome the opportunity to work with and learn from a successful organisation such as Chatfield Zoo.

I gained considerable work experience at a local kindergarten last summer. During my work placement there, I worked alongside teachers, contributed to

- 20 classes and supervised the children at break times. I also sat in on staff meetings and coordinated a very successful sports day. Additionally, as a keen athlete and artist, I feel confident I possess relevant skills and would be well suited to the position.
- I would be delighted to attend an interview at your convenience and have attached my CV for your consideration. Please do not hesitate to contact me if you require any further information. Yours sincerely,

THE SCHOOL REUNION

Last week I went to a school reunion and I was amazed how different the school looks now. The building where we 1 ? to have PE classes has been demolished and a new sports centre has been built instead. I clearly remember how we 2 beg our sports teacher to allow us to play games in the old building!

Then I bumped into Caroline who I <sup>3</sup> always having arguments with. I hardly recognised her. She didn't <sup>4</sup> ? to look so glamorous. But one thing hasn't changed about her. She <sup>5</sup> always talking about others behind their back. It's so unpleasant.

The reunion also reminded me of the importance of punctuality that the school head teacher talked about so often. I got used to certain things so much that even now I 6 ? arrive at meetings at least fifteen minutes earlier than necessary!

Brooklyn Free School, New York

A school with no grades, no homework, no tests and no obligation to attend classes. That's the Brooklyn Free School, a learning institution that follows a 'free' education philosophy. Neither the school's head teacher nor the teaching staff, who are known as advisers, tell the students what to do. 1 ? This is based on the school's belief that learning only happens when it is self-directed and not imposed by others.

The school is open to students from three to eighteen years of age. It encourages them to get involved in everything that concerns the school. In order to do so, students attend a Democratic Meeting where they have equal votes with the staff. This get-together is at the heart of the school's philosophy. <sup>2</sup> Announcements are made, issues are raised and decisions are taken. Everyone cooperates for the well-being of the school. Attendance at the weekly meeting is one of the few school rules. Though some of the younger students don't pay much attention, preferring to read or draw instead, they must be present.

A typical school day is different for every student. They can paint, play video games or work on laptops. Some prepare for the school's annual play by rehearing or building stage sets. In the kitchen, others might be baking a cake or sorting rubbish for recycling. Traditional classroom lessons are also available if students wish to attend. <sup>3</sup> ? By offering these choices, the school accommodates all needs. Being part of a group of classes on a regular basis fits some students best, while doing individual projects is what suits others.

The school's philosophy is a radical one. Parents hope it will make their children independent thinkers and problem solvers. However, the school's system has its share of opponents. <sup>4</sup> This is due to the enormous freedom students have, which can lead to laziness and lack of discipline. Furthermore, they believe that students whose families cannot afford to hire private tutors have fewer chances of gaining college entry. It's believed that the school's academic preparation is inadequate. This seems to be supported by the fact that there are parents who have had to hire help to make sure their children learn the basics. <sup>5</sup> Since then, however, enrolments have increased and people are regaining confidence in the idea of self-regulated education and the school's mission.

- A Also, in its first academic year, a third of the original students left, as did the teachers.
- B These are best for students who prefer a structured day along with a weekly timetable.
- C Many students go there to escape the stress and exam pressures of conventional schools.
- D Taking place every Wednesday, it gives staff and students an opportunity to be heard.
- E Their main criticism is that it does not, in fact, adequately prepare students for real life.
- F It's entirely up to them to choose what they learn and how they wish to learn it.
